A truly unique Hen Party

ANGELS TRAINING CAMP

Hello potential Angels,

Congratulations on finding the Angels Training Camp! Should you decide to take on our challenge you and your guests will be plunged into a world of intrigue and excitement as you try to solve a crime and become fully fledged Angels.

Angels Training Camp is a city centre based adventure treasure hunt which last for up to 4 hours and incorporates a number of hilarious characters on hand to personally oversee your Angels training.

World famous fashion designer (and reputed ladies man) Fabio Don Juan has had his latest collection stolen by a rival and desperately needs your assistance. Have you got what it takes to unravel this sinister mystery and avert an international fashion crisis?

Your mission has two main criteria. Firstly you must complete tasks and challenges set for you by Charlie's right hand man, 'The Badger' - these can be sprung on you at any point during the day and must be completed in as little time as possible.

Secondly each team is given a unique mission booklet. By undertaking and successfully completing each of the many elements contained within; teams will gather information and points vital to their cause.

It's a race against time to solve puzzles, obtain important surveillance photographs and rendezvous with undercover agents in an unforgettable adventure treasure hunt style experience just for the girls!

ANGELS TRAINING CAMP

Voted by both Cosmo Brides Magazine and Virgin Brides
to be in the top 10 most unique hen parties in the UK.

What fully trained angels have said:

"Absolutely brilliant time....We had a ball! What a laugh.....All of the 'Angels' agreed it was the best hen party they'd been on. It certainly fits the bill of 'something a bit different'." Dawn Lindsay, Lancashire

"The treasure hunt was a great success & Fabio certainly left a strong impression on some members of the entourage. I would not hesitate to use your company again in either a personal or professional capacity." Alice Pullin, London

"Thanks so much for organising a brilliant afternoon. We are slightly concerned that a group of 'getting senior' mostly high flying professional women can lose all inhibitions without the aid of masses of alcohol." Anna Bannon, London

"Just to say thanks for an absolutely cracking hen party you put on for us in Tunbridge Wells on Saturday, it went down brilliantly. The Hen herself has not yet put down the photographs as they are making her laugh so much!" Rebecca Jackson, Tunbridge Wells
